International Year of Sustainable Tourism for Development 2017

The United Nations 70th General Assembly has designated 2017 as the International Year of Sustainable Tourism for Development (A/RES/70/193).

It is considered a unique opportunity to raise awareness on the contribution of sustainable tourism development among public and private sector, and decision makers, while mobilizing all stakeholders to work together in making tourism catalyst for positive change.

The International Year 2017 aims to support a change in policies, business practices and customer behaviour towards a more sustainable tourism sector.

It will promote tourism's role in the following areas:

- Inclusive and sustainable economic growth
- Social inclusiveness, employment and poverty reduction
- Resource efficiency, environmental protection and climate change
- Cultural values, diversity and heritage
- Mutual understanding, peace and security

The CSTI will contribute to the efforts of the UN International Year of Sustainable Tourism for Development 2017 and promote sustainability in the tourism industry through some activities and actions that will take place in 2017.

CYHERBIA BOTANICAL PARK AND LABYRINTH

CyHerbia Botanical Park and Labyrinth is situated in the village of Avgorou and includes the following features:

- ◆ Nine different herb gardens, each with a theme
- ◆ A relaxing Tea Room overlooking the gardens
- ◆ A shop with organic teas, oils and many other handmade herbal products (everything is produced within the park)
- ◆ A distillation room, where visitors can witness essential oil extraction
- ◆ A Hedge Maze
- ◆ A lavender meditation labyrinth
- ◆ The Woodland Walk around Cyprus, where visitors can discover the island's 7 wonders and get a foretaste of Cyprus' cultural heritage
- ◆ Adventure, fun and educational activities for all ages

The park took 8 years in creating, going with nature's rhythms and opened in October 2012. CyHerbia was created in order to educate the next generations about the many health benefits of the herbs of Cyprus, which are the best in all of Europe due to the ideal climate and soil conditions. In the nine themed herb gardens they grow herbs organically and provide educational programs for schools and seminars on sustainable organic agriculture for universities and colleges.

Hadjigiorkis Flourmill Museum

Hadjigiorkis Flourmill Museum is an innovative establishment that demonstrates the whole procedure of wheat collection, flour milling and bread baking, the way it took place in Cyprus during the 19th and 20th century. The museum aims to host exhibitions of artefacts from Cyprus and the European Union as well as a variety of events that aim to promote traditional customs.

It is located inside to the modern technology flourmill of 'Savvas Hadjigiorkis and Sons Ltd', giving the visitor the unique opportunity to experience the blending of the milling techniques through time.

The idea behind the museum is to create an interactive space in which tradition and intangible cultural heritage are preserved and revitalised. It aims to educate the visitors regarding the Cypriot traditions, to contribute to the preservation of the local cultural heritage, to enhance both external and internal touristic product of the homeland, to help the reduction of the local unemployment and to re-introduce the elderly to the active social life, by inviting them to conduct seminars sharing their memories with the younger generation.

Projects 2017

Cyprus Breakfast

The Cyprus Breakfast programme is a project developed by the Cyprus Tourism Organisation, the Travel Foundation of the UK and the CSTI through the 'Cyprus Destination Partnership'.

The CSTI has the coordination of the Cyprus Breakfast programme till the end of December 2017.

The goal of the project is the establishment of a brand that promotes the local gastronomic culture and heritage of Cyprus hotel industry. Furthermore, the brand aims to highlight the social role of the industry, through its support for local communities and small producers.

At the moment 34 hotels all over the island participate at the programme. The goal of the CSTI and CTO is to maximise the participants by promoting the Cyprus Breakfast programme. Workshops will be organized to train the chefs of the hotels how to prepare traditional recipes.

For more information please visit the webpage of the programme: <http://www.cyprusbreakfast.eu/>

Prevent Plastic in the Mediterranean Sea - BeMed Project

The initiative 'Prevent Plastic in the Mediterranean Sea' was developed to support the overall aim of BeMed to address the challenge of Mediterranean plastic free. The focus of the initiative is to disseminate best practices, regarding the management of plastic waste and implement alternative actions in order to change the social behaviour and the behaviour of the tourism industry regarding the unsustainable use of plastics.

The topics of the initiative are as follow:

- Raising awareness of both the public and institutions concerning the sources and consequences of plastic pollution
- Sustainable management of tourism and its relation vis-à-vis plastic
- Awareness and involvement of sea users to limit the use of plastic in their activities

The scheduled kick-off date of the initiative is September 2017 and the completion date is November 2018 (14 months). It will take place in the coastlines of the Republic of Cyprus – Larnaca, Limassol, Paphos, Ayia Napa and Protaras.

Cooperation between CSTI and other businesses / organisations

Hypermedia Interactive Services Ltd

The CSTI has developed a cooperation with the ‘Hypermedia Interactive Services Ltd’ to promote the innovative online training course about Sustainable practices in the tourism/hotel industry. The course is designed around gamification, a principle which integrates gaming techniques to drive engagement in non-game business scenarios and make learning more enjoyable and fun.

The course aspires to spread the culture of sustainability across the workplace addressing the three pillars of sustainable development (economic, environmental and social). The course duration totals over 35+ hours of interactive learning with over 300 quiz questions, from which participants can select to play and compete against each other in either English or Greek.

Our new partnership in the provision of state-of-the-art training in sustainable practices is an opportunity for all stakeholders in the tourism industry to meet the challenges of sustainable tourism development in our knowledge-driven economy.

Please for more information visit the website of the online training course at: <https://play.sustainablelearning.eu/login>

Cooperation with European Project Grant Advisors

A strategic cooperation agreement has been developed between European Project Grant Advisors (Despo Kakkoura and Maria Vilanidou) and the CSTI in order to explore and exploit funding opportunities for the implementation of projects about sustainable tourism.

Two important projects related to Sustainability in Cyprus have already been submitted for approval.
